N-Able Group performs executive recruiting as well as "mission critical" professional and technical recruiting for positions around the world.

Focus – We work exclusively with organizations in the semiconductor and related industries.

Knowledge – We are experts in our field. Our search professionals have extensive industry knowledge and typically 20 years or more professional experience.

Customization – We understand the unique requirements of our clients and candidates and tailor each search assignment accordingly.

Rapid Start – We have established relationships in the industry allowing us to “hit the ground running.”

Efficiency – We perform extensive screening up front, taking much of the burden from our clients and allowing them to focus only on the most qualified candidates.

Full Service – We assist in all aspects of the search process from initiation through reporting.

Performance – We strive to fill our client staffing requirements with the best candidates in the shortest possible time.

Results – We have a proven track record of success. Many of our clients are repeat customers.
